

To Whom It May Concern:

When you want an exceptional speaker, you want Randall Munson.

We have hired Randall to speak at our annual conference – four times. Every time the evaluations tell us our members overwhelmingly want us to bring him back again.

Randall Munson always delivers a remarkable presentation filled with insights and practical ideas we can immediately put to use. He understands the world of technology and knows how to clearly relate it to real people. In addition to the solid content, he is fun, funny, and full of energy.

His magic is amazing; his humor is infectious; and his innovative, realistic ideas are incredible. Our members are enthusiastic about Randall because he always informs, motivates, and inspires us.

We're going to hire him again!

Sincerely,

Mark Beveridge
