To Whom It May Concern:

I hired Randall Munson because he was highly recommended to me by someone I trust. That person is one of our top distributors and he had hired Randall to speak for his company's event. He immediately called to tell me what a great job Randall does and recommended Randall for our national Bridgestone Firestone event. I'm glad I took his recommendation.

Randall Munson was a grand slam winner! His presentation drew a huge crowd and the response was outstanding. Everyone loved the way he gave them great new ideas they will use right away while filling every second of his presentation with contagious energy and uproarious entertainment.

Randall was just what we wanted: a great speaker to give everyone solid, innovative ideas to improve their businesses and at the same time get every single person fired up and excited about the conference.

I highly recommend Randall Munson for any event where you need an exceptional speaker. I plan to hire Randall again and I know many of the distributors at our conference are already perusing Randall Munson for their own company's events.

Sincerely,
