

To Whom It May Concern:

Randall Munson delivered everything we asked for and all we hoped for.

Because we strive to make our annual Customer Focus conference one of the highest quality conferences in the nation, we searched for the best opening speaker we could find and Randall Munson was clearly the right choice. Randall set the tone for our entire conference; he got everyone energized, enthused, motivated and ready for new ideas.

I especially appreciate the way Randall merged information about our company and products with his insights and experience to get our customers excited about what we offer them.

Randall Munson was a resounding success with our event team and with our customers' executives. The feedback was excellent.

Always the consummate professionals, Randall and his staff worked closely with us to ensure that every detail was meticulously planned and flawlessly executed.

Randall's keynote was a smashing accomplishment. I highly recommend Randall Munson to everyone looking for a powerful keynote speaker to launch their conference to success.

Sincerely,
