Dear colleague:

When we saw Randall Munson present at an international technology conference we knew immediately he was the speaker we needed to hire for our Customer Advisory Board conference. This annual event is crucial for our company because we gather together our largest, most important customers from around the world. The CAB is designed to share our latest product information, listen to our customers' needs, and motivate our customers to continue relying on our products for the success of their companies.

Randall Munson is the perfect fit for an important event such as this because he connects with every person from every country. We were delighted that our customers described Randall with superlatives such as, "superb, informative, enlightening, interesting, fun, humorous, creative, fast paced, a must, exciting, entertaining, and motivational". Virtually every attendee rated his program EXCELLENT and they all want us to bring him back again!

We are proud of our decision to hire Randall Munson because it is the best decision we could have made.

If you are looking for an exceptional speaker for your most important events, you will be proud of your decision to hire Randall Munson; it's the best decision you can make.

Regards,

David Chalmers
Director of Development
