

Dear colleagues

We knew that Randall Munson was an excellent speaker who clearly appealed to our leadership but, as Europeans, we weren't certain about his effectiveness with a diverse American audience. Now we know – he is brilliant. Randall Munson is an ideal speaker for any European or American audience. Randall presented the perfect blend of innovative business ideas delivered with high energy, motivation, amazing magic and tons of humour.

I especially appreciate how he took time to prepare with us in order to understand our business needs and the objectives of our conference. Then he skillfully demonstrated his message by citing real-life examples from our own company thereby honoring our success and encouraging us to greater innovation. Randall understood exactly what we wanted and his program was spot on.

Randall energized our employees at the end of a long day and charged them up for the entire conference. Thanks to Randall Munson's program, our flow of practical, innovative ideas is now truly amazing.

When the word spreads about the success we experienced with Randall Munson, I expect that others in our company will call on him and that they will experience the same extraordinary results.

If you want to boost your company's innovation and thoroughly enjoy doing it, I highly recommend hiring the innovation expert, Randall Munson.

Yours sincerely

Renata Crome
Global Head
Clinical Programme Management