

To Whom It May Concern:

Of all the speakers our selection committee considered they unanimously selected Randall Munson as the keynote speaker at our annual Summer Conference. Their decision was a good one; Randall Munson was the perfect choice.

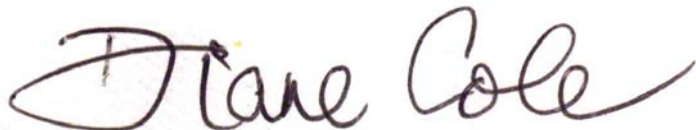

Not only did Randall energize and motivate us, he also showed us how our whole organization can become more innovative. We are already taking action to reinforce and implement his creative ideas across the entire company.

Part of the reason Randall was so effective is that he researched and personally interviewed many of our people in order to thoroughly understand our challenges, culture, and issues. He earned respect and credibility by carefully customizing a presentation that used inside examples and specific ideas that apply directly to us.

Perhaps the best summary is what I told Randall immediately after he finished; "It was wonderful!"

If you are looking for an exceptional speaker for an important event, I highly recommend Randall Munson.

Sincerely,

Diane Cole
